A MERICAN HORSES ABROAD

HRAT THEY HAVE DONE AND TIELR PROSPECTS IN THE FUTURE.

Influence of Messrs, Croker and Bwyer's Campaign in England-Growing Expert Trade in American Trotters A Nota ble Purchase for the Austrian Government - The Trotting Stallion Shepherd F. Knapp as a Mackacy in England-Purk Horses for the Parts Boulevards

livery good American must have felt a thrill o patriotic pride yesterday upon reading the n wa that the steamship Mississippi had sailed for London with twenty-one thoroughbred I rees on board, belonging to Richard Croker at d M. F. Dwyer, bound for conquest on the l ditish turf in competition with the pick and choice of English blood horses. Everybody will hope that success may reward the venture of t . s plucky New York turfmen, and that among the half-dozen untried two-year-olds by the old l arby winner, Iroqueis, one may be found good enough to repeat the triumphs of his sire in

Of course the odds are greatly against the American horses, for they are only a handful to start with, some of which may die on the voyage and others go wrong in training, while all of them will be handicapped, for the first year at l ast, by the radical change of climate. That they will give a good account of themselves there is every reason to believe, however, for the exploits of Iroquois and Foxhall, who were undeniably the best horses in England in 1881, show that the transplanted American thorougheds can take up this climatic handicap and still hold their own with the cracks of the other

In the history of international horse racing the facts are all in favor of the Americans. have won the English Derby, the St. Leger, the Cambridgshire, the Cæsarwitch and about all the classic events of the British turf, and this with comparatively few attempts, while of the nundreds of English horses imported into this country not one has of late years beaten the flower of the American turf in any important race. If Messrs. Croker and Dwyer should happen to succeed in their foreign campaign, they would doubtless do a world of service to the racing and breeding interests of the United States.

It is safe to say that if Iroquois and Foxhall could have happened along in the year 1894, instead of 1881, to capture the Derby and the touble event, no legislative measure aimed at the life of racing would have got very far in this State. And, perhaps, racing men in New York could now make no more sagacious move in the interest of the sport than to open negotia tions with the patrons of the turf in England looking to a series of international contests between the best horses of both countries.

Not much less important than the expedition of Messrs. Croker and Dwyer in its bearing upon American horse-breeding interests is the spon American horse-breeding interests is the purchase made last week at the Kellogg sale of trotting stock by the Commissioners of the Austrian Government. Seven good specimens of the distinctively American breed were received by the foreign buyers, and it is understood that other purchases by the same parties will be made at the Tattersall's sale at Buffalo this week in addition to some important private transactions which are pending. The animals already purchased include one stallion and six mares. The horse is Deputy. 2:194, by Echo, son of Hambietonian, out of Marie Rose, by Inca, 2:27, son of Wood ford Mambrine, 2:2134. He proved to be a fair race horse in Monroe Salisbury's stable two years ago, but as a sire he is as yet untried. As a lot the mares received by the Austrian buyers are of higher class than the stallion. Oratavia, a four-year-old, is by King Wilkes. 2:234, out of Puella, 2:29, a Woodburn bred mare, by Harold, the sire of Maud S., 2:0834. She is fast. O'Shanter, another of the lot, is by Robert McGregor, 2:1736, one of the best of all trotting sires and campaigners, out of Fanny Summers, by Young Jim, the son of George Wilkes, that got Trevillian, 2:084: David B., 2:1044, and Dandy Jim, 2:1044.

Lucetta is a five-year-old by Sable Wilkes, 1:204. Rosita, a four-year-old, is by Re-Electioner, 2:2744, whose sire was Electioner, and whose dam was Lady Russell, a full sister to Maud S. The dam of Rosita is Miss Egbert, 2:294, by Egbert. Titania, foaled in 1886, is by Electioner, out of Elia by Sultan, 2:24, the sire of Stamboul, 2:0736.

The chestant mare Celeste is the choice one of the lot, having produced Mattle S. Wilkes, 2:234, and being a daughter of the great horse Alcyone, out of a three-quarters thoroughbred mare. It is said that these animals are to be sire of Stamboul, 2:0736.

The chestant mare Celeste is the choice one of the lot, having produced Mattle S. many fold and scarcely a week now passes without there is a shipment of severa lwell-bred trotters from the port or New York. They have gained a foothold in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Germany, Austria, Russia, Holland, Sweden, Italy, and Australia, and when not heavily handleapped, or barred out of the races altogether, they have simply smothered the Russians and the native stock on European tracks.

The American trotting horse has a sphere of usefulness apart from racing, and as a road-horse and park horse he is coming to be appreciated abroad. Many years ago the trotting stailion Shepherd F. Knapp, an inbred descendant of imported Messenger with a double cross of Morgan blood, was taken from Maine, where he was raised in England and used as a stock horse by some breeders of the backney. He came to be very highly prized, and among his descendants are many of the greatest prize-winners ever known in the history of backney breeding.

It has not been many weeks since THE SUN announced that the noted English breeder. Harry Livesey, had made a purchase of American trotters with a view to improving his hackney stock, and a little later the news came out that some of the most brilliant high-steppers exhibited at the National Horse Show of last November were orthodox American trotters trimmed up in hackney style instead of being of hackney blood, as nearly everybedy supposed they were.

of hackney blood, as nearly everybedy supposed they were.

It appears that Mr. Livesey learned of this fact during the horse show, and the fine showing made by Coltaville, Cadet, The Devil's Deputs, and other frotting-bred high-steppers in the exhibition inducenced the English breeder to make his purchase of trotting stock.

The trotting horse as a park horse is to be further exploited abroad next season by a very preminent American who spends a good share of his time at Paris and the other capitals of Europe. This gentleman has recently ordered from a well-known New York dealer half a dozen statting-bred harness horses of the finest type obtainable.

They must all be able to beat 2:40 to wagon and have the extravagant knee and hock action now so much in demand for park turnouts. They will be driven singly, in pairs, tandem, and as a four-tin-hand on the benievards of Paris next summer to some of the smartest vehicles in the gay French capital.

GEORGETOWN'S 'VARSITY TEAM. They Intend to Make a Vigorous Campaign on the Blamond This Year. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. - In less than two weeks all the candidates for positions on the Georgetown University baseball team will begin training in the cage. When the first game of the season is played two of the favorites will be missed, Pitcher Ed Dowd and First Baseman John Cotter. They will not return to the university, and there are rumors that both may be found in the professional class. Capt. Ed Ma-honey has two new men for the team who are promising youngsters, and he thinks that by shifting some of the old players to advantage the team will play stronger than ever. One of the new men is McCarty, an outfielder, who was captain of the Holy Cross team last year. He will be placed in centre field. The other lad is McCreery, who played second base on the local Y. M. C. A. team for three years and who has developed into quite a pitcher. Still another new man is "Stump" Reardon, also of the Holy Cross team, whose natural also of the Holy Cross team, whose natural position is third base. He will be only a substitute this year, however, unless he shows up well in his practice. From indications the team will be made up as follows:

Catcher, Sullivan: pitchers, Carmody and McCreery, first base, George Mahoney; second tase, Ed Mahoney; third base, Murphy; short stop, McGrath; left field, Harley; centre field, McCarry; right field, McCrey and Cermody alternating. Regular substitute, Reardon.

Reardon.

Nelson, who played right tackle on the football team, replaces Outerbridge Harpey, who is tired of the exacting duties of manager. Games have already been booked with many of the big college teams. The most important of these are with Princeton and Yale. Princeton plays here on Saturday before and Monday after Easter Sunday, and Yale comes the following Tuesday. Most of the at home games in the spring will be on the college campus. Those with Princeton and Yale may be played at National Park, though this has not been decided on. The last week in May the team make their annual Northern trip, during which they will play eight games with the five leading college teams of the country.

Another Baseball Organization in New

Boston, Jan. 13 .- A pew baseball organiza tion, to be known as the New England Associa-tion, has been formed, with clubs in Manchester. Lowell, Haverbill, Lawrence, Salem, and Brock ton. N. E. Young, Chairman of the Nationa Board, has sent out word that the New England Association has been admitted to qualified membership in class B under the nations membership in class B under the hardessagreement.

J. C. Morse of Boston has been elected President of the association. Among those interested are Frank Leonard of Lynn, Keith of Brockton, Irwin of Haverhill, Carroll of Sålem, Walter Burnham, the baseball manager: Fred Doe, and some men in Lowell, as well as several busines men in most of, the other cities. The President has called a meeting for next Tuesday night
when a time will be named for calling a schedule meeting.

The Baseball Prospects at Brown University.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 13.—The new material for the Brown University baseball team will beginning in the cage next Tuesday afternoon training in the cage next Tuesday afternoon. They will practise every day batting and fielding, followed by light gymnasium work. The association is to be congratulated for securing the services of Ternsey, the old Brown catcher and now with the Boston League Club, to coach the team. He and Capt. Bustard are trying hard to develop a strong team, and if the boys work as faithfully as their leaders there is no reason why Brown should not be heard from in all her games on the diamond this year.

Of the new men the most promising are Summersgill, Fulby, Dunne, Lander, Rodman, Gammons and Mains.

Baseball Notes.

Jim Stafford feels sure of playing second base up to the necessary standard, Jim Mutrie has been in New Bedford lately, and he is reported as being anxious to manage a New England League club. Baltimore's new pitcher, Kissenger of last sea-son's Norfolk Club, is a big, strapping six-footer, and is described as a "second Rusie."

Treasurer Talcott believes that the New Yorks need a new pitcher, nearly equal to Rusie and Meekin in ability, more than a star second baseman.

Tim Keefe has begun coaching the Harvard varsity players, and predicts a strong team for the crimson. Keefe will very likely be reappointed to the League umpire staff.

Eddie Burke and Mike Tiernan, who are wintering in Harlem, are taking excellent care of themselves. They are ready to go South whenever Managor Davis says the word.

Mysuris, Ian. 13.—The Contral and Southern

MEMPHIS, Jan. 13.—The Central and Southern baseball leagues, which have been engaged in a scramble for the Southern territory, are to hold a joint meeting in Atlanta to-morrow, when it is proposed to unite the leagues to include New Orleans, Montgomery, Nashville, Atlanta, Memphis, Little Rock, Evansville, and Chattanooga.

"Dad." Clark is wintering in Oswego. House, Market and Chattanooga. phis, Little Rock, Evanaville, and Charles and Chark is wintering in Oswego. He says that if New York does not have work for him this season he can find plenty to do with the Brooklyn, Boston, or St. Louis club. Manager Davis, however, thinks very highly of Clark's ability, and will give him a good opportunity to show what he can do in the early games.

Private Fowler Made 69 Points in a Sharp

There was quite a large gathering of riflemen on the Seventh Regiment's ranges Saturday night, when a sharpshooters' match was decided. The conditions were seven shots standing and seven prone, at the 200 and 500 yard ranges; unlimited entries and one prize to the highest score. Corporal Carnochan, after holding the lead a long time, was finally beafer one point by Private E. R. Fowler of Company B.

Cross-Country Runners.

One of the largest packs of cross-country run ners of the season participated in the regular weekly run of the Spartan Harriers yesterday, big delegations of athletes from the Atalanta A. C., Nameless Boat Club, Garryowen A. C., Va runa Boat Club, Bay Ridge A. C., Hamilton A. C., and Atlantic A. C. going out under the command of Capt. Freeth. The start was made at 3:30 o'clock, from the Harriers' headquarters at Fourth avenue and Sixty-fifth street. Bay Ridge, and a course of seven miles of the stiffest country in the vicinity was covered in the good time of 39 minutes ably seconds.

A big day's sport is being arranged by the Spartans for Washington's Birthday, when they hold an open handleap cross-country run for valuable prizes, open to all recognized amateur athletes.

The plans of several members of the eace champion Prospect Harriers to reorganize the organization have failed, only seven men answering the call for the meeting. The debta hanging over the once-famed liarriers are the cause of this latest failure to reorganize.

TEAM QUITE HANDILY. The Islanders Fight Hard, but They Only Score Three Braws Out of Eight Sames Played How the Clubs Stand in the Race the Metropolitan Lengue Prize.

As was stated in yesterday's Sun, the members of the Metropolitan Chess Club who visited the Staten Island Chess Club on Saturday for the purpose of playing the Islanders the scheduled games in the Metropolitan League series, returned home victorious, winning 636 games to the Staten Islanders' 136, thus getting the same number of games as were scored by the City Club men against the Newarkers on Tues-

Although the home team played pretty stead Ily in the openings, they were outgeneralled when the games assumed complicated positions, and only Litzenberger, Roettig, and Pendleton could hold their own by draws, the rest of the team being defeated. The scores: PIRST TABLE-BUY LOPEZ.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 13.-The new Memphis Jockey Club last night decided to add a sweepstake to their programme for the spring meeting, this one to be for three-year-olds, $1,000

A NEW POOTBALL ASSOCIATION.

Efforts to Bring Harvard, Yalo, Pennsylvania, and Princeton Together, It is quietly hinted among college men that an effort will be made by certain influential graduates to form a new intercollegiate football asso ciation, to consist of Princeton, Yale, Harvard, and Pennsylvania. The idea is to equalize matters and to have the intercollegiate champion-ship question definitely settled. It has been ship question definitely settled. It has been suggested that in the event of such an organization being formed, Princeton and Pennsylvania could play their annual game on the same day or about the same time that Harvard meets Yale, and that the two winners should meet in New York on Thanksgiving Day to decide the championship. By this means the petty quarrels of the past season would not occur again, and, everything being equal, the sport would be greatly benefited.

As one expert said the other day:

"The Intercollegiate Association, as it now exists, can form rules to suit itself and at the same time handleap the Pennsylvania and Harvard elevens. Mesers, Camp and Moffat form a graduate advisory committee whose rullings must be adopted by the association, consisting of their own respective collegue, and the rules and regulations thus adopted must necessarily be obeyed by two big rival colleges which have absolutely no voice in the matter. Harvard and Pennsylvania should have the same authority in governing college footbail that Yale and Princeton have, and the only way to bring that about is to organize a new association."

Camp's Ideas on Football Changes, Walter Camp has expressed himself on the proposed new football rules and advocates thre changes, two of which were originally suggested by THE SUN last month. Camp says tha all of the officials, including the referee, umpire all of the officials, including the referee, umpire, and two linesmen, should be empowered to disqualify or penalize players for rough tactics. He also thinks that momentum plays should be abolished by prohibiting the players in the rush line from leaving their positions until after the ball has been snapped back.

Both of these remedies against existing evils were set forth by The Sun. Camp's third idea is one leading to the protection of the fullback, making a catch of a punted ball. He thinks that the simplest remedy would be to give a "free kick," at the same time preventing the opposing players from coming within five yards of him. This is novel and worthy of consideration, as it seems to be the one way to abolish rough tackling.

LONG ISLANDERS ON THE GRIDIRON Playing for the Champtonship of the New

Suburban Association. The first day's games in the tournament to decide the champion football eleven of the Long Island Suburban Football Association were de cided yesterday, and the teams representing the Woodside, Glendale, Ridgewood, Olympic, Atlantic, and Empire athletic clubs proved the initie, and Empire attrictic closs proved the victors. The teams will play for a $100 trophy, which will go to the club winning the greatest number of games under American Association rules. Judging from the opening contests, the Woodside, Atlantic, and Glendale elevens are the strongest in the association. The results: WOODSIDE A. C., 5; PEERLESS A. C., 2.

It did not take the Woodside A. C. eleven long to thoroughly convince the Peerless A. C. eleven of Brooklyn that they were in too fast company. In just one hour the home team rolled up five goals to the visitors' two. The game was played at the Woodside A. C. grounds. The teams

"THE SPANIARD" WINS AGAIN Handball for Stakes Up Town-Experts
Busy in the Other Courts,

Handball men spent a busy "club day" and set up some tall scores in the different courts. The tournament opened very successfully at the Brooklyn Club's court, and that at Manhattanville advanced another stage. The experts attracted many visitors, who watched the lively sport with much interest. John, "the Spaniard," again bested Mike Landy for $25 a side. The day's scores were: AT THE BROOOLYN CLUB'S COURT.

Gossip of the Courts.

J. Flaherty of Jersey City was keyed up for his match with J. Rush of Greenpoint on "club day," but Hush did not show up. The "doubles" tournament at the Brooklyn Club's court has got under way in promising style. The series will be continued next club

All details are now arranged for the annual reception and ball held under the Brooklyn Club's auspices. The event takes place next Monday night. Pat Barrett, the Manhattanville expert, has been unwell, but in about a month he hopes to oblige John Malcolm with the home-and-home match suggested.

Those noted partners, ex-Alderman Dunne and Dr. Smith, are slated for a match with Phil Casey and Major Carmody at the Brooklyn Club's court next Thursday afternoon. Dr. Smith and John Malcolm scored over Phil Casey and Jem Malcolm at the Brooklyn Club's Court on "club day," after a warm and scien-tific match. Ex-Aiderman Dunne was referee, and legislated severely against the losers. and registated severely against the losers.

The return match for $25 a side between John, "the Spaniard," and Mike Landy resulted in a second victory for the former. Landy played well enough to satisfy his admirers, and they are prepared to back him for another match in three weeks time.

E. Lawlor and T. Langan, the pair originally challenged by Scott and Flaherty of Jersey City, have sent word from Williamsburgh that they will accept and play a home-and-home match for any reasonable amount. Meanwhile, the Jerseyites have decided to bind a match with Lawlor and Kelly "of the Greenpoint Court." The tangle can be straightened out at once if a freoresentative of Lawlor will call at the Jersey City Court to-night.

ment's "Gym."

A number of Adelphi Academy students went up to the Thirteenth Regiment's armory last Saturday night, under the leadership of their physical director of the armory, to show the guardsmen how to play the game of basket ball, and to perform in their new gymnasium. The basket ball game was played in the large parade hall. Two teams were chosen and Dr. Pettit was referce. The game was well contested, no scoring being done in the first halr. In the second half dewell's team won by three goals to one for Babcock's team. The men then went to the gymnasium, where Dr. Pettit led them through a number of difficult feats. The swimming tank was turned over to the boys, and many enjoyed the plunge.

Among those who took part were Jewell, Babcock. Beyers, Komer, Geer, Corbett, Stearus, Forney, G. Owen, Thackery, Robertson, Hilliman, and Baucker. A number of old Adelphi students were there to see the sports.

At the dinner of the Brooklyn Canne Club on Saturday night the Impending changes in the racing rules of the American Canne Association was referred to freely. A prominent racing man, who was present as a guest, noticed that when the modern racing canne was mentioned it was always in terms of condemnation. The word "acrobat" was used, and the satior on his long deck seat was compared to a "monkey on the end of a stick." The inchient shows how practically unanimous is the belief that the long deck seat and the unlimited sail area are the principal causes of the stagnant condition of canne racing.

During a conversation between Al Smith and "Parson" Davies on Saturday night, the proposed battle between Peter Jackson and the "Coffee Cooler" was discussed. Smith said he would bet $1,000 to $500 that the "Cooler" will beat Jackson if they meet, and offers to take every bet in sight at these odds. The "Parson" promised that he would accommodate him as soon as the pair come together.

Jim Corbett, in a letter dated Atlanta, Ga., to Al Smith, says: "O'Donnell hurt his leg last Friday night in some way, and will not be able to spar for a few weeks. I am now boxing with Hig John McVey, and have lots of fun. He is awful slow, but hits hard. I'm feeling great."

Smith also received a communication from Jimmy Westcott of Boston, who is engineering the coming match between "Mysterious" Billy Smith and Joe Walcott, whichs to be decided at Boston on March 1. Westcott wants Smith to act as referee, but the latter cannot, as he has retired from the arena as far as judging contests is concerned. Smith will appoint a man to act, however, by next Saturday.

Chris Freeman Knocks His Man Oct.

Billy Davis of Jersey City and Chris Freeman of Ridgewood, Long Island, met in the rear of a road house on the Cypress Hills road, Queens county, on Saturday night for a fight to a finish. Davis was the lighter, tipping the beam at 1394 pounds, while Freeman weighed 14016 1394 pounds, while Freeman weighed 14014 pounds. Freeman, who is matched to fight Billy Ernst, was eagerly scanned by the spectators and pronounced in fairly good shape. Davis cut out the pace for three rounds; Freeman fought carefully until he had got the Jerseyman's measure, then he used both hands skil fully and cut Davis on the left eye and chest. Davis was weak from forcing the pace, but fought back hard and fast. Freeman was among his own friends and this gave him courage. He fought Davis to a sandstill in the eleventh round, and put him to sleep with a right hander on the jaw in the twelfth round.

On account of the bad weather, the Knickerbocker Canoe Club did not secure a quorum on last Thursday evening, and the annual meeting had to be postponed until next Thursday night.
